1. Executive Summary

- The agreement establishes a residential tenancy with obligations for monthly rent, maintenance charges, and utility bills.
- The landlord requires an interest-free refundable security deposit, with a protective clause allowing the tenant to withhold possession without rent if the deposit is not refunded upon termination.
- Either party can terminate the agreement early by giving a one-month written notice.
- A severe double-rent penalty is imposed on the tenant for failing to vacate the premises upon the expiry or termination of the lease.

2. Risky Clauses

Clause	Risk
That the Tenant shall pay for the running cost of elevator and generator separately to the Owner.	Medium
That in case, where the Premises are not vacated by the Tenant, at the termination of the Rent period, the Tenant will pay damages calculated at two times the rent for any period of occupation commencing from the expiry of the Rent period.	Medium
That the Owner shall hold the right to visit in person or through his authorized agent(s), servants, workmen etc., to enter upon the demised premises for inspection (not exceeding once in a month) or to carry out repairs / construction, as and when required.	Low

3. AI Recommendations

Negotiate Clause 17 to reduce the holdover penalty or establish a reasonable grace period before double damages are triggered.

Clearly define the formula or method for calculating the running costs of the elevator and generator under Clause 4.

Amend Clause 11 to require the Owner to provide at least 24 to 48 hours of advance written notice before conducting inspections or repairs.

Ensure all blanks and placeholders (such as names, addresses, and amounts) are fully completed before executing and registering the agreement.
